
Case Study – 2,000,000 words in 6 weeks

What do you do when there are more than 25,000,000 million words to be translated in a short period of time? You divide it up between various language service providers and hundreds of freelance translators. EPIC Translations was selected to provide its translation expertise for this massive project that had to be completed within 6 weeks.

Requirements:

1. Translate error-free Japanese to English content related to technology, product innovation, and marketing.

Fulfillment:

EPIC Translations reached out to its more than 700 Japanese < > English translators and quickly assembled a team of expert translators that were ready for the challenge. The 65 translators selected for this project were located throughout the USA and Japan. The team of linguists was divided by location and expertise and assigned to 1 of the 3 Project Managers from EPIC Translations. In order to ensure error-free translations, there were 6 Editors who worked out of the same office in Detroit, MI. This enabled all 6 Editors to review the translations and catch common errors. EPIC Translations' proprietary project management software was utilized in order to ensure nothing slips through the cracks.

When possible, Trados was used to create translation memories to increase the translation speed and to reduce the translation costs. The end result was a monumental achievement of translating 2,000,000 words within 6 weeks.
